Total of 301,945 Is 10,926
Less Than Last Year's

YOM KIPPUR A CAUSE

Falling Off Is Heaviest in Manhattan; Much Less in Bronx and Brooklyn.

GOOD GAIN IN RICHMOND

Curran's Manager Warns of Plot to Deprive Women in Hotels of Vote.

The second day of registration in New York city showed a falling off of 25,928, as compared with the second day a year ago. The total yesterday was 139,592, which makes the total for the first two days 301,945, about 10,000 less than 1920, a Presidential year. Yesterday's total was 21,761 less than the day before.

The slump was due partly to the observance of Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement. In certain sections of the city the registration booths were practically deserted, and in one East Side Manhattan Assembly district only 130 persons registered.

A warning was issued last night from Coalition headquarters against what is thought to be a rise to deprive women residents of hotels of their vote. According to John J. Lyons, coalition campaign manager, fake registration blanks have been circulated in some of the hotels and those who sign them have been given to understand that they need not register. No one can vote unless registered in the designated registration places.

The result of yesterday's registration and the first two days' total for the last four years by boroughs is as follows:
